

Photo-Luminescence (PL): Is one of the methods to characterize the unknown materials (crystal structure, impurity and concentration) with emission signal by the excitation of input source (laser, lamp) on sample. It is the most important instrument for characterization of semiconductor (Types III-V, II-IV), LED and Photoelectric device in property measurement.